

Working Holiday Visa Motivation Letter

Dear Sir or Madam,

Through this letter, I would like to express the motivations that led me to apply for the Working Holiday Visa. This project holds a very special place in my heart, and I'm truly excited to share the reasons why Japan has become such an important part of my dreams.

My fascination with Japan began in childhood sparked by anime, and has blossomed over the years into a genuine admiration for the country's culture and way of life. I was drawn to its cuisine, its music, its breathtaking landscapes, and the delicate beauty of its language.

In high school, I had the opportunity to take part in two Erasmus internships, in Italy and Czech Republic. Living abroad without any familiar support taught me independence, adaptability, and a great sense of curiosity for other cultures. I discovered how fulfilling it is to step outside my comfort zone and embrace a new way of living. These experiences awakened in me a strong desire to explore Japan in a similarly immersive and meaningful way.

Later, I met a French person working there, and our conversations only confirmed everything I had felt about the culture, its human warmth and its sense of community. More recently, a close friend returned from Japan, and the way she spoke of her trip with admiration, wonder, and emotion, made my desire to go even more vivid. These encounters, each in their own way, acted like gentle confirmations that this journey was meant for me.

To prepare myself, I've started learning Japanese on my own through Youtube and language apps. Being able to connect with people in their own language is something I care about deeply. I also look forward to discovering the country's soul through its seasonal traditions, such as Hatsumode, the vibrant festivals, and the poetic beauty of Hanami, which I find incredibly moving.

That is why I am applying for the Working Holiday Visa.

I want to experience Japan, to live in the rhythm of its daily life, and to let myself be transformed by everything it has to offer. I hope to find opportunities to contribute, to meet people, and to learn quietly, respectfully, and with heart.

This journey is, to me, a beautiful step forward. I believe it will nourish many parts of who I am, my curiosity, my openness, my sense of wonder, and my desire to keep growing. I know it will also strengthen my adaptability, my independence, and my understanding of the world.

Above all, I feel a quiet but powerful excitement at the idea of spending a year discovering a culture I've admired for so long. Japan represents, to me, a place of beauty, harmony, and inspiration. I look forward to creating memories there that will stay with me forever.

Thank you very much for considering my application. I sincerely hope to be given the opportunity to live this adventure fully and respectfully.

Sincerely

Lauréna
